Alex Goad and Brian Johnson are finally ready to launch their latest and greatest online course Auto Content Cash. There's definitely been a ton of buzz around Auto Content Cash once they gave one of their plugins away for free. This plugin automatically creates backlinks to websites that are relevant to yours. This increases your online rankings. People are now beginning to take notice that you can have an online business that can run on complete auto pilot.

When Brian Johnson released his first course, I bought the product. As a matter of fact, it was the first product that I bought about affiliate marketing. I followed his course to the tee and began making money within weeks. When Brian released SEO Press Formula, it changed the way I did business forever. Thanks to Brian, I have brought in thousands of dollars in over the years. Now it's time to take it a new crazy level of internet marketing.

I've always knew that there was an easier way to add content to websites. One of the daunting tasks of online marketing is writing articles. I've written more articles than I can remember. I know random tidbits about random subjects because I've written about all of them. Not only has this made me money, but it's also excelled my skills when I watch Jeopardy on television.

Now that Auto Content Cash is out to the public, it's simple to run my online business and do it on total auto pilot. I won't have to worry about losing rankings on my sites anymore. My sites will continue to rank well because I've made adjustments that keeps content pouring into my sites and also have them build backlinks too.
