Lawrence Joseph's Apocalypse 2012 Book

In the book written by Lawrence Joseph, it focused on the physical evidences which are available at present times; instead of dealing with those speculations related by various kinds of people. And if you will truly look at these facts, you will be certain that there will be massive destructions on Earth in the coming year 2012; leading to the end of the world.

It was even revealed in the book that there are several cracks observed in the magnetic fields of planet Earth. What is more, it also exposed the increase in the number of cosmic rays as well as the possibility of massively destructing volcanic eruptions in 2012. Aside from these scientific evidences and stories, this book also has a part revealing about the Bible's prediction of the end of the world in the year 2012.

Although Lawrence Joseph did not precisely point out what people can do in order to save their lives in case such predictions and physical evidences turn into reality, he concluded that people should start praying and put their faith unto God. Unlike how Joseph presented his book, Gary Jennings focused on the Aztec culture and how they experienced the early signs of their end. What is more, Gary Jennings geared his focus on the scientists who revealed that the ancient people have already experienced in the past exactly what we are experiencing in our generation.

Gary Jenning's Apocalypse 2012 Book

What Gary Jenning's Apocalypse 2012 book is trying to point out is how people can generally save themselves and their civilization from the different phenomena and catastrophes predicted to happen in 2012.
