Kai Perfume - One Step Closer To Nature

Meant to capture the breezy and tropical scent of Hawaii, Gaye Straza Rappaport developed Kai perfumes for Kai Fragrances. This sought-after fragrance has started from the beginnings of the Kai couture which Rappaport sold in Malibu, California in 1999. She then continued with the fragrance and beauty line with Kai.

The name Kai means "ocean" in Hawaiian and is exactly what the Kai perfume has aimed to capture. The fresh and lush fragrance of gardenia and other white flowers like jasmine, tuberose and lily and has been a favourite of celebrities with its simple yet sophisticated and sweet scent.

The Kai perfume was originally released as body oil and was developed into a fragrance. The body oil came in flat and close to the skin but when developed to the fragrance has become a sweet yet not overpowering gardenia character.

One of the reasons why this has been a favourite of many celebrities is because of its femininity, yet simplistic take on scents. Together with other high-profile fragrances like Ghost perfume, Kai has expanded its range within the elite and celebrity circles of Reese Witherspoon, Naomi Watts, Jennifer Aniston, Charlize Theron and Julia Roberts among others.

Other products from the Kai brand are also a favourite of many. If you want to have the full aura and effect of the breezy and relaxed vacation, you may want to start off with the Kai body wash which has the same tropical scent of the Kai perfume. You can also light Kai Twilight candles while soaking yourself. This will help you relax more and rejuvenate. You may also choose from Kai Moonlight candles or Kai nightlight candles to provide you with the perfect ambiance. Also available is the Kai Body Buffer which to exfoliate, cleanse and moisturize your skin without being too harsh.

After a good bath, massage on a good mix of gardenia and cucumber onto your skin with the Kai body lotion. It has extracts of aloe, seaweed and jojoba oil for a smooth and silky feel. If you think this is not enough, put on a soufflé of the Kai body butter to give your skin extra suppleness with vitamins A, C and E. One interesting piece on the Kai fragrance and bath line is the Kai Home Linen spray that will give you dreams of tropical tranquillity as you spray it in your room or on sheets to give you the Kai perfume experience even while tucked in.
