Tissa Godavitarne's Acme People Search Program

Many affiliate marketing programs abound over the internet and in most cases they are for services and products which are service charge based or one-time payment based. The basic flow of online programs goes around the search and purchase of practically everything but many of us believe that affiliate programs are restricted to the buying and selling of goods. However, some affiliate programs should take statistics into mind and know that more than one third of search engine searches are for people.

People usually do a search for people due to separation by time and by distance. By time in this case you might try to find long lost friends or classmates that you have not seen in years. Based on studies it has been seen that more than one third of all search engine searches are for people, whether long lost friends or not. People searches are also done by companies for on potential employees and this is also done by potential creditors and investors to check in case the persons they are working with are reliable or not.

When it comes to online programs the people search engine is quite novel in its approach in piggy backing on the big three search engines in terms of algorithm searches but adds another dimension in that anybody can literally make money on zero investment due to free information on people that are routed through your site as well as your personalized search engine.

The reason that Acme Person search works is that for one as covered in the previous part of this article is the fact that again 30% of searches are people related and therefore this is basically a niche industry with plenty of income generating possibilities. Likewise promoting a product like information on people gets tens of thousands of hits on a daily basis and with the Acme People Search affiliate program the search engine provided is basically on autopilot so its basically a shoot and forget system. In addition to this the no start up fee is attractive and saves you tens of dollars in getting free advertising on Yahoo, Google and MSN engines for up to thirty days.

The most amazing thing however is that you are making money out of free information that is readily available to anyone either on a pay per click basis or a commission based system. The simplicity and ease of use of this system is enticing and is recommended for those people wanting a hand in earning more income through online marketing.
