Giant Bean Bags - Popular This Summer

One of this year's biggest trends in home furnishings is the humble bean bag chair. A far cry from their bean-filled descendants of the 70s, modern bean bags make a bold fashion statement and are as much about practicality and comfort as they are about looking great. Bean bag chairs are especially useful during the summer where their versatility makes them a must have item in any home.

1. Sunbathing - If you like nothing more than to catch a few rays in the summer you'll be familiar with the problems associated with uncomfortable plastic and wooden sun loungers or towels laid on sand or concrete. Why not get a tan in comfort this summer with a big bean bag lounger. Made from water resistant fabrics, they are the ideal place to spend an afternoon in the sun whether in the garden, at the beach or indeed anywhere.

2. Camping - Sitting around a blazing campfire is one of the many joys brought about by the summer weather and there's no comfier place to sit than a nice big bean bag chair. Bean bags can be folded and squashed making them easy to pack into the car for your camping trip while a larger bean bag provides the perfect camp bed. Going to any music festivals this summer? Why not take along something a little more comfy to sleep on than a camping mat?

3. Watching the World Cup - It's almost time for the World Cup to kick off so make sure you've got somewhere comfortable to sit. Getting a lot of the boys and girls round to watch the footy this summer? Bean bags make the perfect occasional chair, ideal for seating all those extra supporters. Available in a massive range of colours, why not get one in the colour of your team to show your support?

4. Staying In - Being in Britain, summer time does not always go hand in hand with good weather. The unpredictable British summer weather often leaves us bored with nothing to do but re-arrange our plans. While away the rainy spells in front of your favourite video game, TV show or with a good book, snuggled up in a cosy real leather bean bag chair.

5. Entertaining - Whether you prefer a barbecue outdoors or indoor entertaining, you can never have too many chairs. Avoid leaving your guests sitting on the floor with some comfy bean bag seating. Water resistant bean bags make great outdoor seats for garden parties and barbecues and can easily be taken inside to continue the party should the weather turn ugly.

There are such a huge variety of uses for a bean bag chair that it's a wonder that every home doesn't have at least one. If you've already got a bean bag, you'll know how versatile and comfortable they are. If you're not a bean bag owner, we suggest you try sitting in one as it will change your outlook on home furnishings for good. We hope this article has provided some good ideas for using your bean bag to its fullest. Why not treat yourself and spend the summer in comfort with a giant bean bag chair or two for your home?
