Ultimate CPA Blueprint - Make Thousands From CPA Marketing

Making money on the internet is now easier thanks to affiliate marketing. It is a unique model where anyone will be able to earn money without having to deal with product creation, shipping and management. One person will be paid money just for referring the merchants with customers.

There are actually two type of affiliate marketing. In pay-per-sale affiliate marketing, one will be compensated for commission for sending real customers.

There are thousands of pay-per-sale affiliate programs on the internet and the number is still growing. Three of the most popular networks are Commission Junction, Clickbank and Amazon Associates. Some affiliate networks require you to have a website, while others like Clickbank will automatically approve your account even if you don't have a website.

Another form of affiliate marketing is known as pay-per-lead affiliate marketing or CPA marketing. CPA stands for cost-per-action. One affiliate will be compensated each time his visitor takes certain action, like filling the form, downloading one program or trying new products.

CPA marketing is a great alternative to those who struggling hard to make good income from Clickbank or common pay-per-sale networks. It would be easier to make any visitor signing up for free trial offer, rather than forcing him to buy something.

Despite that, CPA marketing has its own drawbacks. One problem would be for PPC users. Unlike pay-per-sale affiliate programs, CPA networks will pay less for each referral, usually less than $10. It would be hard to make high return of investment if you are trying to convert PPC traffic with CPA offers.
