Scam Artist Or Smart Entrepreneur - Dave Clabeaux

Dave Clabeaux is a former English Professor and also worked as an author for a large publishing company. He is from Western New York but moved to Florida for the warmer weather. He is the co-creator of the Six Figure Program.

Dave believed there had to be another way to earn a living. He had heard about people making millions of dollar on the internet, and wondered if he should look into to. Even after working two jobs, working long hours and most weekends, he still wasn't any further ahead. He ran into his college teammate and friend, Ben Moskel, who was living proof of that it was possible to make money on the internet.

Using the tips Ben gave him, Dave quickly launched his own affiliate website. Since he had a passion for snow boarding and knew a lot about it, he developed a successful affiliate marketing business promoting snow boarding and ski equipment. He was earning almost $500,000 a year from just a small group of websites -and he knew he was hooked.

He work solely as an Affiliate Marketer now, although his natural ability as a teacher has helped with the transition to teaching other learn how to empower themselves and enjoy the financial freedom he does. He is able to work anywhere, anytime and anyplace, a fact he really enjoys.

He has great empathy for those he teaches as well, as he remembers what it feels like to be a prisoner to a job. The desperation can be a driving force to a new life, and he loves sharing his success with others. Learning about a lucrative opportunity which only requires a computer and a desire to learn has been very rewarding for Dave.

Need more information? Think of it this way. You sign on with a company like Weight Watchers and build a website that promotes weight loss. Anyone who searches on the internet for "how can I lose weight" will come across your website. They click and it forwards them to Weight Watchers. Every time they click on one of your sites, you are paid a percentage amount by Weight Watchers. So the more websites you build the bigger chance you have of making money. It really is that simple.

Building an empire as well as earning over a million dollars, together Dave and Ben are willing to share their secrets of success with anyone who wants to learn. They are still regular guys who love to travel all over the world sharing their inspirational stories with anyone who will listen. Also available, short videos on line which can be viewed for free. They are excited to help you grow your business.

Step by step, they will teach you how to build websites that will draw people. They have developed a seminar called "The Six Figure Program" that gets bigger and bigger every class.

"The Online Entrepreneur" is a successful book they have written together as well to share the secrets of their success. Sold in over 40 countries, the income from the book and internet sales have earned them over $30 million dollars for Fortune 500 companies like Yahoo! and Microsoft, as well as banks and other retailers & service providers.

Satisfied business owners constantly stay in touch with Ben and Dave so they can stay up to date with the latest niches being opened up or developed. This is not a scam - there are too many people who are interested in this product and its proven results.

Dave Clabeaux is an American success story, and anyone associated with him and his "The Six Figure Program," as well as "The Online Entrepreneur" are proud to be part of that success and making part of it their own.
