You Can Claim A Free iPhone 4 With The LOVEFiLM Trial

We all love watching the latest blockbusters, but not everyone has the time or money to visit the cinema every time the latest must see movie arrives.

Do you live in the UK ? If the answer to that is yes then i'll bet you didn't know that you can start a claim on expensive free gifts by joining an on-line DVD Rental company.

LOVEFiLM in the UK are not only the largest on-line rental company but they are also the most popular affiliate partners of some very popular incentive based websites.

The incentive sites promote LOVEFiLM by offering free expensive gifts to new customers to join them. Free gifts available can vary between the sites but all the latest gadgets are available and what you choose is up to you.

You need to know just how this all works so I will now run through the main aspects and try and show you just how these companies manage to give away all these expensive gadgets for free.

First thing to do is join an affiliate site that is offering free gifts to you, some of these will be listed later but when you join it's really important that you use your genuine details. Your details, including your email address will be used to verify your account protecting the affiliate company from fraud but more importantly how are you going to receive your free gift ?

After joining you will see a section called 'Offers' and after selecting this you will see all the different offers you can choose from. You need to select and complete one of these offers to fully activate your account. Some are paid offers for services that are useful to people and there are also free offers like the LOVEFiLM Trial.

The offer you choose is entirely up to you, but as the LOVEFiLM offer is free to try, then why not take advantage of this. Two weeks of being able to rent movies or games free of charge, and as this is a no obligation free trial you can decide later if you wish to stay with them or not.

For your account to be fully activated you need to complete just one offer, I recommend the LOVEFiLM Trial because it's completely free and might just open you up to a new service that you would really enjoy using. To complete this offer all you need to do is rent and return at least one game or DVD during the 14 day period.

There are plenty of other offers which have been carefully chosen so that at least one of them will be of interest to you.

After you have completed your offer you need to gain credits (known as greens) to your account. You can do this by asking family and friends, work mates and acquaintances to sign up and complete an offer just like you have done, but this time through the unique affiliate address that you can find in your control panel under 'Refer Friends'. You cannot allow anyone to create multiple accounts from the same house, or use the same computer or internet connection though as this will be checked under verification as mentioned previously and could invalidate your account.

To gain credits you need to get your link out to as many people as possible but please don't spam. You can post your link on forums, in your signature where allowed or make a thread promoting your website or service. Add it to social websites such as FaceBook and MySpace and add it as a signature in your outgoing emails.

Once you have gained the required credits your account will be placed in to verification, this means the freebie company will check you have not broken any of the terms and conditions and that any of your credits are gained are also within the terms and conditions.

Your gift is completely free as long as you complete all the requirements so as soon as you do, just sit back and wait for it to land on your doorstep.

If you really are thinking of starting to rent movies on-line then visit the websites mentioned below and choose between the options of the plain vanilla LOVEFiLM Trial or to choose a free gift to receive by forwarding new customers on yourself and see just how easy it is to claim completely free gifts.
