A Couple Of The Most Useful Apps Which Have Been Created On The iPhone

If you are looking for a new type of phone to get, chances are, you have probably considered the iPhone. I mean, in this day and age, who hasn't? The iPhone is an incredible mobile device and its uses span way further than just making calls. In my opinion, the greatest part of the iPhone is the apps.

When it comes to my iPhone, here are some apps that I consistently use.

I'll start off by mentioning my favorite game on the phone, which is without a shadow of a doubt, Angry Birds. Created by the hit makers Rovio, this game is incredibly addicting and well worth its $1 price tag.

Another very fun iPhone game to play is Para Panic. This game has little paratroopers falling and you have to touch the screen to get them to fall on ships instead of falling in the sea and getting eaten by sharks. It is more fun than I make it sound.

When it comes to innovative apps that you have a hard time remembering life before it existed, Shazam has to be at the top of the list. If you are not familiar with this program, Shazam allows you to find out the name of any song (as well as purchase if you want to) playing simply by holding the phone and letting it record.

If you are a big traveler, I highly recommend getting the Kayak mobile application. Kayak allows you to find the lowest prices of hotels, airfare and car rentals by comparing prices from all over the internet.

Last but not least is the Nike running app. This thing acts as an odometer and lets you know information like your pace, distance traveled and calories burned. Very cool indeed.

I have no doubts that a few years down the road there will be many more to add to this list.
