Different Wordpress Themes

WordPress is classified to be the most well-known blogging program for every blogger because of its user friendly choices. Almost every blogger today is familiar with WordPress. Presently, WordPress is not just particular to blogs but also for several sectors. These sectors may comprise e-commerce, personal portfolio, gallery and other corporate sectors. Apart from being user-friendly, WordPress also gives a large assortment of themes for all types of sites.

WordPress users can now select from numbers of themes that are usable on-line. There are several free and premium templates to choose from and several of them have multimedia support. Here are examples of the desirable WordPress templates out there.

One of the desirable one-column templates for WordPress out there is Manifest. Manifest is a attractively made one-column weblog theme with graceful style and provides no misdirection to the major content. If you need a template that is all about creating and reading, then the Doc template is perfect for you. Its beauty lies in its plain design. And if it's simplicity that you are looking for, then nothing can be simpler than the Simplr template (no pun intended). Simplr provides simplicity at its best, giving a white and flexible design. If you agree that less is more, then the Vostok template is the one that you are probing for. This template offers a clean and refined one-column template that concentrates on written content, images and videos instead of flashy backgrounds.

Next are the two-column WordPress themes. If you are probing for a two column template that emphasizes on content and uses typography and clean space to result in a professional feeling, then the Handgloves template is perfect for you. It also offers remarkable integration choices for adding pictures in posts. Another wonderful two-column template is the Inuit Types. This template provides a design that seems more like a half blog, half magazine website. And if you wish a clean and lightweight theme that is also eye-catching, the Clean Home is a fantastic choice.

Magazine-style WordPress themes are also quite well-known nowadays. One of the most amazing templates in this category is The Morning After template. It is a marvelously designed theme for mag-style web pages and it is free. Another excellent magazine-style template is the Magazeen them. It gives a attractive design and comes in a modern-day look and feel. It is also totally free. If you want a smart looking mag-type template that provides lots of highlight images and a content-packed homepage, Yamidoo magazine is the right way to go.

For photo gallery and multimedia WordPress templates, there are also a lot to choose from. One effective choice is the Zack990. This theme exhibits pictures as wide as 990 pixels and also gives lots of other features too. Other fantastic photo gallery template types also include AutoFocus, Snapshot and FotoFolio. If you favor themes with the power to post pictures and videos, DePo Square is a outstanding choice. And for anyone wanting to build a screenshot gallery, CSS gallery or any gallery-type web page have to definitely try the CSSEY theme.
