Astrology Compatibility Report And Can It Save My Relationship?

Astrology has 12 zodiac signs. Almost everyone today knows about their respective sun sign. All of us have judged others based on sun sign sometimes, but is it accurate? Nope, Its like judging our entire planet based on Iraq.

Sun sign represents the 'ego' of the person. As ego affects every part of an individual, one can see the effect of sun sign on various aspects of a person's individuality. But its far too superficial and generalized to come to any concrete solutions. The effect of other planets may even deminish the effect of sun sign heavily, thus a person may not have behavior like his/her sun sign.

Let have an Illustration:

We all know that one of the attributes of a cancer (sun sign) woman is that she's shy and reserved. But do you know that the mercury planet defines the communication aspect of an individual? So if the particular cancer woman has Gemini as her mercury sign, than she could be quite chirpy and talkative. Thus, she wont be acting as her sun sign.

So can astrology work enough, to help us understand someone?

A complete birth chart analysis is required to understand someones personality! This can be done studying the synastry between two birth charts, the 12 planets, 12 houses etc. Various planets defines various aspects like the moon defines emotions, Venus defines relationships, mars defines career, Pluto defines the sexual life etc.

How the heck this astrology compatibility report works?

At, AstrologyCompatibilityReport.com, We do a complete birth chart analysis to help you understand the person. How does one person behave with other is not the same, he/she behaves would behave with another. Thus, people react differently when they meet different people. You might have a sudden liking or repulsion for someone. We use birth chart synastry of both the individual to understand how they would live together, what type of relationship they would share? what would be their mode of communication, the positive and negative aspects of relationships etc.

So what we learned?

You should not try to understand a person solely based on the sun sign, to get an accurate and personalized reading, you should go for an astrology compatibility report.
