As with any home opportunity, investigation into the company is critical. When your research on possible MonaVie scams has been completed and you have met with actual participants, attended a meeting or two and have seen the enthusiasm and belief of the people, then make your decision.

MonaVie was begun by Dallin A. Larsen in January 2005 and has grown by leaps and bounds since that time. Throughout the world, from the Americas to Europe, Asia to the Middle East, and the South Pacific to Asia, they have flourished, along with its independent distributors.

The outstanding regional events held around the world are also designed to 'show and tell' the benefits of the juice, announce new products and allow the distributors to network. Meeting new people and gathering necessary knowledge on conducting their business is also a main ingredient in the events conducted.

The acai berry from the jungles of Brazil is the star of the delicious and healthy juice made by MonaVie. High in antioxidants, vitamins and minerals, MonaVie also includes eighteen additional fruits from the far reaches of the world, all with high qualities important to your health.

MonaVie Essentials and MonaVie Active were the two original juice blends to be introduced. Not being satisfied with those alone, quickly developed was MonaVie Pulse for the heart and cholesterol control. A 100% natural energy juice in lite and regular, followed that. MonaVie(M)mun containing Wellmune added immune building properties to the juice mix.

The unparalleled opportunity found here offers the chance to be a part of the extremely profitable area of income found in the health and wellness industry. The independent distributors share in 50% of the company profit when a certain amount of their groups' sales is reached. That is in addition to their own personal bonuses on personal sales. Actually, there are nine levels of bonuses in their compensation plan.

The mission statement of MonaVie has as its mantra: changing people for the better, providing a method of income production that is one-of-a-kind, and giving back to communities through humanitarian aid and volunteering services. If you have only heard of MonaVie scams and did not get the whole picture, seek out a MonaVie Distributor as soon as you can and hear and see the real facts. MonaVie rocks.
