How To Get Twitter Followers

There are numerous people who want more people to follow them on twitter. Here are some ways to increase the number of your Twitter followers.

Follow everyone who follows you. This is a good way to increase the number of people who follow you on twitter for two reasons. First, the people will determine that you didn't follow them and will probably not follow you back. Second, whenever you follow someone back, some of those people may respond to your Twitter publicly, which will give you access to the people who follow them. If you can't keep up with that many people, you'll need to be more selective in what and who you read.

There are two reasons why you should follow more people yourself. First, if you follow more people more people will follow you. Second, you can also put links on your Twitter profile to your Facebook page, your website, and blog, and any other social networking websites where your friends and fans go.

There is also some useful software to increase the number of people who follow you. These include Social Oomph and Tweet Adder.

You should routinely stop following people who don't follow you back. You need to avoid follow limits. After you've followed about a certain number of people, you won't be able to follow any more until you have the same number of followers. The reason for this is that it simply gets too time consuming to clean up your list. There are some services that can help you with that including Tweet Adder and Friend or Follow. If all you want to do is increase the number of followers you have in a hurry, these techniques will work. There's not much thinking required but there is a lot of clicking required.

You may need to consider getting a different account for Twitter. Your account may get suspended for being a spammer if all you do is try to increase the number of people who are following you. If this happens to your primary Twitter account, you may want to create another account for use of these techniques.

Follow the people who follow you automatically. There are many celebrities on Twitter who will automatically follow you back. They are somewhat like spammers, but they'll follow numerous people and have the same number of followers. You'll find these accounts when you are doing your Twitter travels but you can do a search on the Internet search for the Twitter accounts that are the most popular.
