Don't be away from your office even when in Romania!

If at Romania, you will witness two contrary sights where on one side Audis zoom around cities exhibiting the opulent side of the country and on the other side; rustic countryside with farms and greenery all around. The capital, Bucharest is a blend of grotesque communist monuments and purposefully hidden-away cathedrals. Hiking, biking, and skiing are found all over the Transylvanian Alps, which curl across central Romania.

Finding an internet caf to check your emails in between this leisurely trip is really cumbersome, isn't it? In this case, being able to check your mails on your mobile device would be really great! Yes, this is when Microsoft Exchange Server comes as a savior!

If you synchronize your phone with MS Exchange Server, accessing your mails on phone becomes easier. However, before synchronizing with Exchange mail hosting, you must check whether you are carrying a mobile device that can access the local wireless provider, the data plans offered by the provider, and the proper configuration of your device. Also being a non-resident of Romania, in order to avail the use of MS Exchange, you should first check with your home country's local wireless providers whether they provide the roaming arrangements with the Romanian carriers.

Also, you should check with the Romania's wireless providers about their various schemes and offers that they provide. In Romania, Cosmote Romania, Orange Romania, Vodafone Romania, and Zapp Mobile are the biggest wireless providers. Cosmote Romania is a Romanian mobile phone operator. It is the third largest mobile phone operator in the country, following Orange Romania and Vodafone Romania after surpassing Zapp Mobile. It is a GSM network.

Romania has a population of 21.5 million people. The official language of Romania is Romanian, an Eastern Romance language related to Italian, French, Spanish, Portuguese and Catalan. Romanian is spoken as a first language by 91% of the population. Hungarian and Vlax Romani are the most important minority languages, spoken by 6.7% and 1.1% of the population, respectively. However, Romanians using Exchange Mail hosting can be tension-free as Hosted Exchange is available in various language packs including Romanian language allowing the locales of Romania to use Exchange Hosting in their own language.
