Fast Track Nursing - Land Your Bachelor Of Science In Nursing In Just Twelve Months

Students can go back to school and earn their BSN in as little as a year with an accelerated program in nursing. There's a huge demand for new nursing professionals to join the field and therefore these accelerated programs are growing rapidly as well, providing individuals like yourself a fantastic opportunity to move ahead quickly.

Students holding a degree in any field are able to enroll into one of the hundreds of accelerated nursing programs throughout the US and complete their Bachelor of Science in Nursing in as little as 1 year. Alternatively there are generic masters programs also available that give you a masters or doctorate in any nursing related field in just three years or less.

But the accelerated BSN is where most people are interested in going. The profession of nursing is on the rise, and all of the numbers show it. In fact, in 2009 it was the fourth most popular degree. The demand for new nurses to join the field is massive, and on top of job opportunities, there are high salaries, very rewarding positions and a dynamic workplace environment as well.

The way an accelerated BSN program works is that you'll be focusing on the most important nursing topics to complete your industry specific education. You will be moving from one course to the next with very little time off, taking classes all throughout the year as opposed to long breaks between semesters. This creates a challenging and intensive environment, but one that allows you to progress quickly, always stay moving forward, and ultimately complete your schooling in potentially as little as 12 months. Even if you don't have a bachelors degree to start with, a BSN can be completed in 2-3 years, still a lightning quick pace.

There are some Prerequisites necessary for entry into the course. These differ slightly from school to school so check that you qualify before you enroll. When selecting a course you should ensure it has the biology, anatomy, physiology and pharmacology subjects necessary to become a qualified nurse.

These accelerated programs are demanding but the rewards for your effort far outweigh the sacrifices. The shortage of nurses at the moment is extremely high and is projected to get even worse into the future. Nursing has certainly not felt the negative effect of our deflated economy and is pretty much recession proof. It is also an extremely satisfying career, where you will be helping people in need on a daily basis. Accelerated nursing degree programs are certainly a fantastic way to fast track your way into a successful career in nursing.
